

MS. VANDANA SHRIMALI

Qualification: M.Sc. Nursing (Obstetric & Gynecological Nursing); B.Sc. Nursing

Designation: Associate Professor

Description: Ms. Vandana Shrimali is a nursing professional by training and is currently serving as an Associate Professor, with 23 years of teaching experience.

She has completed her M.Sc. in Nursing with a specialization in Obstetric and Gynecological Nursing from Rajiv Gandhi University of Health Sciences, Karnataka. At present, she is working as an Associate Professor at the Institute of Nursing Sciences and Shri G. H. Patel School of Nursing, Bhaikaka University. In her academic role, she actively participates in departmental activities as a teacher, facilitator, assessor, guide, and mentor.

She holds several key academic and administrative responsibilities at Bhaikaka University, including membership in the Board of Studies as a nursing faculty, the Internal Complaints Committee, and the Steering Committee. She serves as the In-charge of the Obstetric and Gynecological Nursing Department, Postgraduate Coordinator, Coordinator of the Examination Committee, and Member Secretary of the Admission Committee.

Ms. Shrimali is trained in simulation-based teaching and has undergone the Onsite Skill Standardization and Simulation Training programme for capacity building of midwifery faculty in India at the National Reference Simulation Centre, SGT University.

This programme was organized by the Indian Nursing Council in collaboration with UNFPA.

She has published a research paper in The Nursing Journal of India. Her area of specialization is Obstetric and Gynecological Nursing, while her areas of interest include Obstetric and Gynecological Nursing, Child Health Nursing, and Nursing Management and Administration.